Data protection officer: You may contact the data protection officer at adatvedelem@ovf.hu about the processing of your personal data or to exercise your rights.

If you have any questions regarding this Privacy Statement or wish to exercise your data rights, please contact us at the email address provided above.

2. Data collected and purposes

When requesting a download on danubewb.com, we collect the following personal data directly from you:

- Full Name
- Email Address

We use them to contact you, where necessary, about technical updates, changes to content or questions concerning the downloaded resources, and to compile internal usage statistics and count downloads. The information is collected directly from you. We do not use these details for automated individual decision-making or profiling.

Legal basis: We process your name and email address on the basis of your consent under Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR. You may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting the data protection officer at adatvedelem@ovf.hu. Withdrawal does not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before you withdrew consent. Providing your name and email address is voluntary; however, you need to provide them to download materials through the platform.

3. Access, recipients and international transfers

Access is restricted to authorized OVF staff according to their duties and access rights. The designated expert of the River Basin Management Department may use these details only for the purposes described in Section 2. OVF does not disclose these personal data to third parties or transfer them to countries outside the European Economic Area. No data processor is engaged for this processing.

4. Storage period and protection

The CDS is expected to be maintained for at least five years after the project. OVF retains your name and email address during this period only for as long as they are needed for the purposes described in Section 2. If you withdraw consent, OVF will stop processing these data on that basis and delete them unless another legal obligation requires their retention. If arrangements for maintaining the CDS change, OVF will review this notice and inform affected users where required.

OVF uses password-protected access, role-based permissions, firewalls, antivirus protection, backup and archiving, and screening of uploaded files. The controller uses appropriate technical and organizational measures against unauthorized access, loss, alteration or disclosure.

5. Your rights

You have the right to receive clear and transparent information about the processing of your personal data (Article 12 GDPR); to request access to your data (Article 15), rectification (Article 16), erasure (Article 17), restriction of processing (Article 18), and data portability where the conditions of Article 20 are met; to object to processing where Article 21 applies; and to seek a legal remedy. Details of complaint and judicial remedies are set out in Section 6. You may withdraw your consent at any time.

Send requests to adatvedelem@ovf.hu. We may ask for information necessary to verify your identity. The controller will respond in writing without undue delay and in any event within one month of receipt of your request. Where necessary, this period may be extended once by up to two further months; you will be informed of the extension and its reasons within the first month.

6. Complaints and legal remedies

You may contact the controller or its data protection officer. You may also lodge a complaint with the Hungarian National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information (NAIH), 1055 Budapest, Falk Miksa utca 9–11, Hungary; postal address:

1363 Budapest, P.O. Box 9; ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu; www.naih.hu. You may seek a judicial remedy before a competent court, including a court at your habitual residence where the GDPR permits.

7. Security incidents

If a personal data breach is likely to result in a high risk to your rights and freedoms, the controller will inform you without undue delay, subject to the exceptions in Article 34 GDPR.

8. Terms for downloaded materials
